A CORNER IN MUTUAL UNION.

DEALINGS IN THE STOCK SUSPENDED.

AN INVESTIGATION OF IRREGULAR DEALINGS BEING NADE BY THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Dealings in Mutual Union Telegraph stock were suspended at the Stock Exchange yesterday afternoen by special order of the president after consultation with the Committees on Securities and on Stock List.

during the day that his extraordinary action was finally taken. The notice read from the rostrum was as fol-On recommendation of the Committees on Securities and Stock Last, I. J. Edward Simmons, president of the New-York Stock-Exchange, hereby suspend all dealings and deliveries in Mutual Union Telegraph stock pending and investigation in relation to certain alleged irregular transactions said to have been made in the stock.

Complaints of irregular transactions were so frequent

A special meeting of the Governing Committee wa called for to-day, and to secure testimouy in the case the Committee on Stock List listened to complaints for three hours yesterday. The sub-committee took no action, but the suspension of dealings will continue until some deislon by the full committee has been reached.

cision by the full committee has been reached.

The cause of this flurry was a close corner in Mutual Union Telegraph stock, the price of which jumped from 17 on Saturday to 35 yesterday. At the advance there was no stock available for the closing of contracts. The exposure of the corner showed the business methods of a number of Stock Exchange firms. Numerous orders were received from C. H. White, of Newark, last week. The letters were in C. H. White, of Newark, last week. The letters were it ame tone and of different dates. All inclosed checks 300 or $500, which have since been proved so far as they have been collected. In the statement was made that the writer a small amount of money and was stilling to risk it in stock speculation. Some of the s were received nearly a week ago and the check The operation was explained yesterday by andden rise in the price of the stock. On Saturday letters and dispatches were received from Mr. White to sell Mutual Union Telegraph stock, which had been sent by mail or express. The orders were executed by eight brokers who were unable to make deliveries because they had solt seed to the stock from their customer. It did not take a long time for the brokers to discover that on a 3 per cent margin they had sold short a stock of which the supply was limited to about 1,800 shares. The firms who were victims of the corner are Morris & Sons, Poor, White & Greenough, Green & Bateman, Vyso & Son, J. H. Sterling & Co., E. L. Oppenheim & Co., Churles M. Whitney & Co., and Easton, Nichols & Co. The number of those which escaped will probably never be known. It is certain that a large number of orders were sent, because many brokers boasted that they had not been caught in the trap. A. K. Enos & Co. returned the cheek with the statement that the firm did not take orders from strangers on a 3 per cent margin. Denslow & Herts collected the check and replied that the stock would be sold at the market whenever it was received. Other instances of a similar character were reported. An incident amusing to every one except the principal happened in one office, where a customer on seeing the stock quoted at 31 ordered the sale of 200 shares, and found out soon afterward that his stock was New-York Mutual Telegraph. On a proper representation of the mistake the sale was covered at 35, a loss of $500.

The principal buyer of the stock was J. F. Shepard, who is a specialist in several inactive stocks. He asked the brokers in several cases if tany knew what they were selling, but to fill his own orders bought the stock so freely offered to him. He was not sufficient to estadish the chirge. Walter Del Mar, of E. L. Oppenheim & Co., who sold follows have a not sufficient to estadish the chirge. Walter Del Mar, of E. L. THE POE MONUMENT TO BE UNVEILED ON MAY 4. The Poe Memorial Committee on Saturday evening, made the final arrangements for the dedication of the Actors' Monument to Edgar Allen Poe, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in a hall henceforth to be Metropolitan Museum of Art, in ahali henceforth to be known as The Poets' Cerner and devoted to similar memoriats of Americans famous in literature and art. The menument fund was raised by dramatic performances, in which Edwin Booth took the lead, and a few contributions were received from private individuals—among the gifts being one from the University of Virginia. The statue will be upveiled on May 4, at 30 clock p. m. The exercises will include an address by A. S. Bulkivan; speeches by Edwin Booth, Lester Wallasek and General di Cesnola; a poem by William Winter; an oration by William R. Alger; a musical composition by George Edgar Montgomery; and other interesting features. The memorial was made at Florence, Italy, by Mr. Richerd Henry Park. It consisted of a massive and majestic female figure more than life size—made of white marble—represented in the act of pincing a wreath upon a bust of the poet. The bust is of bronze, set sgainst an entablature of white marble, and beneath it is as inscription. The entire structure rests upon a padestal of marble and granite.

SWINDLED BY A PRETENDED MINISTER. BALEIGH, April 13.—For about a year Joseph Bleens has been preaching in the Baptist Church at Mountain Island, Gaston County, He declared that a Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Company, respondent. Arnew church must be built. He started on a collecting tour through Lincoln, Catawba and Gaston Counties and gathered in nearly $5,000. He then went to Charand gathered in nearly $5,000. He then went to Charlotte to have plans drawn for the new church and to deposit the money in the bank. He expected to be gone one week, but this period increased to two weeks, and finally a messenger, sent by the wife and congregation to Charlotte, returned with the information that Mr. Williams was in Charlotte on the day he left home and had not been seen there since that day. An investigation showed that Williams is not a minister, that he had forged his credentials as a minister, and that he is a bigamist, having a living wife in Georgia. Of course no money was deposited in the bank.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

LIABILITIES OF A MARRIED WOMAN WHOSE BUS-

BAND IS HER TRUSTEE. WASHINGTON, April 13.-A decision was rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States to' day in the case of Frances Dodge, et al., appellants against Thomas Knowles, which presents the question of the liability of a married woman for certain debts contracted by her husband nominally as her trustee. The Court holds that neither the liability for provisions supplied at a dwelling-house where a husband and wife and their children are living together nor a promissory note given by the husband describing himself as trustee for the wife in payment for such supplies, can be charged in equity upon the wife's seperate estate without clear proof that she contracted the debt in her own behalf or intended to bind her separate estate for its payment. The decree of the court below is reversed and the case remanded with directions to dismiss the bill. Opinion by Justice Gray.

A decision was also rendered in the case of Norman H.

This was a proceeding by libel against the steam boat Laura and her owners to recover certain fines and penalties imposed by the statutes of the United States upon the masters and owners of vessels carrying a larger number of passengers than they are allowed to earry by their certificates of inspection. The appellant, who brought the suit in the District Court, would have been entitled to a share in the amount recovered from the steamboat company by way of penalty for its alleged violation of the law, but while the case was pending the steamboat company set up in bar of further proceedings a warrant of the Secretary of the Treasury remitting all fines and penalties which might be found due the United a warrant of the Secretary of the Treasury resulting all fines and penalties which might be found due the United States and others from such company on account of its alleged offence. The appellant raised the objection that the Secretary of the Treasury had no constitutional right to make this remission, and that the exercise of such discretion was an encroachment upon the pardoning power committed by the the Constitution to the President aione. WINNING ITS ELEVENTH NEGLIGENCE CASE. Matthew Farley fell and broke his leg on a grating over a coal hole leading to the cellar of the premises No. 5 East Thirty first-st., in January, 1881. premises No. 5 East Thirty first-st., in January, 1881. He sued the city in the Superior Court. The case was tried yesterday before Judge Truax and a jury. The plaintiff claimed that the grating was old and had long been in a dangerous condition, and that at the time of the accident and for several days previous it had been covered with fee. But Mr. Farley's witnesses falled to establish to Judge Truax's satisfaction that the accident occurred as alleged in the complaint and they did not agree with each other's statements. For these reasons, and on the ground that the grating had not been in the condition described for a safficient length of time to charge the city with notice, the Judge granted a motion to dismiss the complaint. Edward D. McCarthy appeared for Mr. Farley; Assistant Corporation Counsel Francis L. Wellman and Heary W. Wheller for the city. This is the eleventh case in succession recently won by the city; and a defeat in a negligence case growing out of an accident from key sidewalks or pavements is coming to be a rare occurrence in the Corporation Counsel's office instead of the frequent one that it formerly was.

The sealed verdict in the case of Miss Fanny Zerovich, who claimed $5,000 damages from Isaac Blumberg for breach of promise of marriage, was opened in the Supreme Court yesterday. The jury directed Blumberg to pay $500 to Miss Zerovich, and an extra allowance of 5 per cent was granted. The defendant's counsel moved for a new trial, which was decied.

town loaded to the muzzle. The opening tap of the bell was the signal for no end of extravagant bidding by the "bulls," while those "bears" who had the misfortune to be "short" did good work for the enemy by grabbing right and left for everything offered. At 90% cents, the opening for May wheat was 2 cents above saturday's close. The necessities of the "shorts" and the orders from the country were not long in making the price of that option 91 cents, which was the top noteh of the day. In spite of the excitement at the opening, there were plenty of people on the floor who, while not particularly anxious to back their opinions with any large sums in hard cash, were exceedingly sceptical on the question of war.

The upward movement was brought to a stop before noon. The heavy volume of buying orders from outside was perceptibly decreased before 11 o'clock. Wide-awake commission men, by dint of close and constant serutiny of the bulletin board where consol quotations are posted, were able to warn their customers at the first sign of weakness. About noon the feeling became nervous and deckledly unsettled. At the first indication of higher consols, long wheat began to come on the market. Reigh realized existency mad many other local traders made effort to get their profits. Few "hears" were foolish enough to sell "shert" much, and therefore predictions of a rapid decline were not verified. The lowest point touched by May wheat was 89% cents. The close was rather firm at 80% cents. Prices of other articles on the list followed those of wheat. Provisions were fairly netive without notsworthy feature, opening 10 cents better at 812 45, touching $12 50 and closing the same as on Saturday at $12 35. Oats were 3g cents higher at the opening, advanced to 56% for May and dropped to 35% cents at the close.

There was considerable activity in the corn pit, with the opening 4 cent higher at 46% cents. The price gradually declined and at the close was 46% cents. May corn 46% cents, June over $10,000 on to the Clearing House. Le

CLOSING PRICES OF BOSTON STOCKS. Boston, April 13, 1885,

CLOSING PRICES OF PHILADELPHIA STOCKS. Reported by Jours H. Davis & Co., 17 Wall-st.

| Bid. Asked. |

MONDAY, April 13-P. M. This day in the stock market will be classed as one of excitement; yet the turmoil, noise and flurry were composed more of wind than of any substantial quality. The total transactions amounted only to 195,710 shares, against 240,500 shares on Saturday, and of to-day's business three stocks,-Northwestern, St. Paul and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western-contributed 196,300 shares, and of all stocks 103,900 was done in the first hour. The seeming excitement had its origin in the confusion that resulted from the manner in which the business was opened. Promptly at the fall of the chairman's gavel one hundred brokers in twenty different stocks put bids upon the floor that ranged from 18 to 19 per cent above Saturday's closing figures. Almost without exception the highest figures of the day were recorded within the next fifteen minutes. The warlike character of the morning news was given as the ostensible reason for this sharp and early advance in figures. After the first hour, as can readily be comprehended from what has already been written, the market was dull, so that for the remaining four hours the business amounted only to 92,700 shares. Judged by the fluctuations of the latter part of the day it would seem that in the estimation of the cliques the prospective war will prove bene-ficial only to certain of the granger railroads and to the anthracite coal roads. Thus, while Northwestern and St. Paul show final gains of $3 and $4 per st. Paul show final gains of a and b per cent respectively. Burlington and Quincy shows a de-cline of a per cent. The final advances for all the coalers, excepting Reading, range from a per cent for Central of New-Jersey to 14 per cent for Delaware and Hudson. Aside from the stocks named a majority of the list not only lost all of the early advance but closed from is to a percent lower than on Saturday evening—the latter decline being for Lake Shore, which closed at latter decline being for Lake Shore, which closed as 50% against 60%, its opening figure. Some genuine excitement was created by an advance from 17 to 31@35% for Mutual Union stock, by what is supposed to be a deliberately planned operation to defraud some eight or ten members of the board. The dealings in the stock were suspended by the president, pending an investigation.
The market closed extremely dull and irregularly weak.
The business in Government bends amounted to
